

Craig Boddy, MD

Dr. Craig Boddy is an adult Hematologist / Oncologist at Hawaii Pacific Health (HPH) and clinical member at the University of Hawaii Cancer Center (UHCC). He earned his medical degree at University of Illinois at Chicago before completing Internal Medicine residency at Washington University in St. Louis, and then Hematology/Oncology fellowship at Northwestern University in Chicago.

His sub-specialty area of focus is cancerous and benign blood disorders. These blood cancers include lymphoma, leukemia, multiple myeloma, myelodysplastic syndrome, and others. He also works with the federally-funded program Hemophilia & Thrombosis Treatment Center of Hawaii at Kapiolani. He is involved with clinical trials through UHCC where he serves as the Principal Investigator for multiple blood cancer clinical trials.

He is board certified in Internal Medicine, Hematology, and Medical Oncology. His personal interests include snorkeling, hiking, camping, golf, and cheering on his favorite Chicago sport teams.

